The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!

The "Lorens" is a very special Cru created by Walter Lodali in loving dedication to his father. Barrel-aged in small French oak for 22 months, another careful selection is made of only the absolute best among these barrels. The wine is produced in an extremely limited quantity only--1,600 bottles. The special label is made from actual copper and will age and tarnish with time. The top of the bottle is hand sealed with red sealing wax and each bottle is wrapped in sheets Washington Post newspaper!